Extra: How to Add Two Columns to the Tools

For those of you coming from Adobe Photoshop, we want to show you how you can add two columns to the vertical Tools menu so that you can have the Fill/Stroke circles at the bottom of the tools.
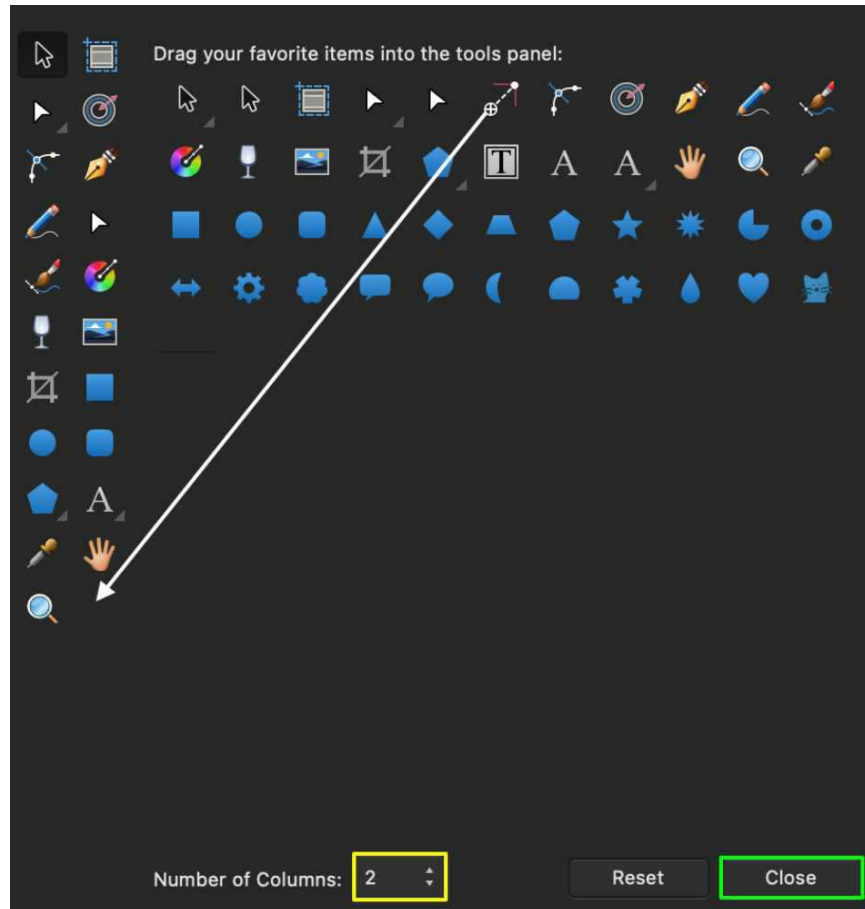

If you are new to Designer and not coming from PS, then we would still recommend you use follow along and add these two Tool columns to your screen. You can always very easily remove them later if you don't want them.

To do this...

  Go to the Menu bar - View - Customize Tools... The Customize Tools option is at the very bottom of the View's pop-out window. We cheated and shortened the list to make this image.

When the Customize Tools window opens, you can add tools to the left vertical list of tools by using a click & drag motion (see the white arrow for this action). You can also go to the bottom of this window and change the Number of Columns to 2 (see the yellow rectangle) and this will make it so the Fill and Stroke circles are at the bottom of the Tools. When done, press Close (see the green rectangle).

Done. You now know how to do this extra change to your screen. Now the Fill/Stroke circles will be added to the bottom of the Tools menu.

Finished.
